

Alternate Access® Provides Freedom with Wireless Headsets

Reasons Why You Need A Wireless Headset...

Ergonomic Benefits

Don't sacrifice personal comfort when talking on the phone. With a headset you won't have to prop the telephone headset between your neck and shoulder.

Hands—Free Advantage

Enjoy the freedom and comfort of not having to hold a telephone handset. With both hands free, you'll be more comfortable and be able to perform other tasks when speaking on the telephone.

Multi-Tasking Efficiency

Headsets free your hands and give you increased productivity and efficiency. Write notes, access documents or use your keyboard during your telephone conversations.

Mobility

With a wireless headset solution you are completely free to move about the office. Gather information, consult a colleague or go to another desk or office — all during your telephone conversation.

Alternate Access® is an authorized dealer for GN Netcom® and Plantronics®. These two companies each provide innovative, high-quality solutions for both secure wireless and corded hands-free applications.
